

ANTH 145 Introduction to World Prehistory

Summer Session I (May 15th-June 22nd)

Cueva de las Manos in Río Pinturas, Argentina

This course provides students with an overview of prehistoric societies and events from around the world. Students will be introduced to the methods used by archaeologists to study the human past, drawing on a wide range of case-studies from Africa, the Americas, Asia, Oceania, and Europe.

Open to current UNC students, visiting students, incoming first-years, high schoolers, and community members!
